

Test Your Tomato Plant Knowledge

The main part of a tomato plant are the roots, stem, leaf and flower.

Using these main parts, Can you identify which part of the plant makes the sentence below correct?

The _____ of a tomato plant produces seeds, which form new tomato plants.

The _____ makes the food for the tomato plant. They take the water, together with sunshine and carbon dioxide make plant food.

The _____ moves water around the plant. It raises the leaves and flowers of the plant off the ground.

The _____ takes in water and nutrients from the soil. They anchor the tomato plant into the ground/pot.

The Leaves on a tomato plants are important because they convert sunlight into sugar to help keep the plant alive. (Photosynthesis)