

Varieties of Carrots

Carrots are members of the parsley family like celery, parsnips, dill and fennel. Carrots come in a wide variety of shapes, colours and sizes. Colour variation includes orange, purple, red, white and yellow.

Nairobi carrot

Nairobi carrots grow quickly producing good flavour, colour and a smooth texture. The cylindrical roots have little core which makes them very tender.

Chantenay
carrots

Chantenay carrots are short, stout carrots with light orange flesh and orange-red coloured cores. They can be eaten raw or cooked, with their taste usually described as sweet and crisp

Purple
carrots

Purple carrots are dramatic and eye-catching, many of them are only purple on the outside. Their centre cores are orange, which can often be seen when looking up close. Purple carrots have an intensely sweet flavour that can sometimes be accompanied by a peppery taste.

Varieties of Carrots

Organic carrots

Deliciously organic carrots. These wonderfully refreshing and crunchy carrots taste between sweet, fruity and more harsh or bitter flavours

Emperor carrots

Emperor carrots are long, straight, tapered carrots that measure about 8 to 11 inches at full maturity. The carrots have a deep orange colour and thin skin that is easy to peel. And sweet flavour.

All the varieties like Nairobi carrots, Chantenay carrots. Purple carrots, Organic carrots, and Emperor can be found in your local supermarkets

If growing at home seek advice from your local garden centre on the best varieties to grow.

